II. Basis for Jurisdiction

Federal courts are court of limited jurisdiction (limited power). Generally, only these types of cases can be heard in federal court: a dispute that involves a right in the United States Constitution or a federal law (as opposed to a state law or local ordinance); a dispute that involves the United States of America (or any of its agencies, officers or employees in their official capacities) as a party; and a dispute between citizens of different states with an amount in controversy that is more than $75,000.

What is the basis for federal court jurisdiction? (check all that apply)

III. Statement of Claim

Write a short and plain statement of the claim. Briefly state the facts showing that the plaintiff is entitled to the damages or other relief sought. State how each defendant was involved and what each defendant did that caused the plaintiff harm or violated the plaintiff's rights, including the dates and places of that involvement or conduct. If more than one claim is asserted, number each claim and write a short and plain statement of each claim in a separate paragraph. Attach additional pages if needed.
